Asian-Owned Firms Reach Entrepreneurial Parity in Number and Employment

Asian firms are the first minority group to reach entrepreneurial parity in number of firms and paid employees. Parity is defined as reaching proportionality between the adult Asian population and business development measures such as numbers of firms, gross receipts and employees of Classifiable firms (excludes publicly held).

- The adult Asian population represented 4.9 percent in 2007, while Asians held 4.6 percent of these firms’ gross receipts, 5.0 percent of their employment, and 5.9 percent of all Classifiable firms.
- If Asian firms’ gross receipts reflected the 2007 adult Asian population share, receipts would have amounted to $538 billion, but the actual figure for Asian firms closely trails this amount by only $30.1 billion.
- The 2007 parity for paid employment was 2.8 million, and Asian-owned firms employed that many workers in 2007.

Asian-Owned Firms Grow Fastest in 12 States across USA

- Between 2002 and 2007, the number of Asian-owned firms grew faster than their national average of 40 percent in 12 states. Top states included: Nevada (by 98%), Kentucky (72%), Georgia (72%), Arkansas (65%), Utah (65%), Alabama (62%), Arizona (60%), South Dakota (59%), Florida (57%), Connecticut (55%), Tennessee (54%), and Texas (47%).
- Asian-owned firms were most concentrated in California (509,097 firms; 33% of all Asian firms), New York (196,852 firms, 13%), Texas (114,336 firms, 7%), New Jersey (67,758 firms, 4%), Florida (64,930 firms, 4%), Illinois (59,347 firms, 4%) and Hawaii (56,835 firms, 4%).

Asian-Owned Firms More Likely to Export

- Asian firms operating in 2002 were nearly three times as likely to generate sales through exports compared to non-minority firms operating in the same year.
- Minority business export activity spanned 41 countries over six continents (North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia), according to U.S. Export Import Bank financial transaction data between 1992 and 2009.
- Mexico, Brazil, and Dominican Republic are the top three markets for minority firms export activity, accounting 52% of all financing transactions authorized for these firms when foreign markets were identified between 1992 and 2009.

Note: The exporter data difference between Asian and Non-Minority firms is statistically significant at a 90% confidence level.
